ABSTRACT
This directory lists primarily not-for-profit organizations, associations, and mutual assistance groups in the Twin Cities (Minneapolis and Saint Paul, Minnesota) that are by, for, and about Asian Americans. It does not include state offices, religious organizations, or student groups among its 116 entries. Each entry includes the organization's name, specific ethnic orientation, description of services provided and outreach activities, and a contact person. An ethnicity index also groups the organizations by specific ethnic group served. While primarily of local interest, this directory is comprehensive enough for a large urban area to be potentially useful to those engaged in similar activities elsewhere. (SLD)

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Asian American Renaissance is pleased to be able to work with the Center for Urban and Regional Affairs, University of Minnesota, to produce this Directory of Asian American Community Organizations in the Twin Cities.

The directory was motivated by a desire to provide as accurate information as possible about the many resources of the Asian American community. Asian Americans are the fastest-growing racial/cultural population in Minnesota so the need for timely materials is pressing.

We are grateful to CURA for providing us with a Communiversity Personnel Grant that allowed us to have Tara L. Jebens-Singh as a research assistant to develop this directory. Tara’s intelligence, sensitivity, sense of humor and hard work are what made this publication possible.

In addition we want to thank Hoa Young, community liaison for the Mayor’s Office, City of St. Paul, for sharing not only her data and contacts, but for her encouragement on this project. The support of Frederick W. Smith, coordinator of Community Development Programs at CURA, also was instrumental in the production of the directory.

Finally, it is important to say that this directory would not be possible without the assistance of all of the community organizations that were willing to provide information about their work. The Renaissance would like to thank all of you for the important work that you are doing.

The Asian American Renaissance is a grassroots, community-based organization of Asian Americans with a commitment to building the Asian American community through the arts. For further information about the Renaissance, please feel free to contact us.

INTRODUCTION

The Directory of Asian American Community Organizations in the Twin Cities is a listing of primarily not-for-profit organizations, associations and mutual assistance groups in the Twin Cities area that are "by, for and about Asian Americans." It does not, however, include state offices, religious organizations or student groups. To the best of our knowledge, the information contained in this directory was correct as of January 1995. Undoubtedly, some groups that should have been listed were inadvertently missed; we tried to be as inclusive as possible, given the constraints of schedules and resources.

To provide comments and suggestions for this directory, please contact:
