American Indian Urbanization & Assimilation: A Bibliography

Compiled by
Tammy Lauer

Under the supervision of:
John Poupard, American Indian Research and Policy Institute
Dr. John Red Horse, University of Minnesota-Duluth

This project supported in part by the Center for Urban and Regional Affairs (CURA), University of Minnesota.

The mission of the American Indian Research and Policy Institute is to promote more accurate knowledge of the legal and political history of American Indians, particularly those in Minnesota and the surrounding region, that has led to their contemporary situation. The Institute will foster better informed responses by local and regional governmental and private leaders to the challenges of Indian life with respect for the culture and values of American Indians.
The American Indian Research and Policy Institute is a non-profit organization dedicated to the search for and transmission of knowledge about the American Indian community. As part of the Institute's dedicated effort to provide information on contemporary American Indian issues, the Institute has undertaken a research project to generate bibliographies on several topics.

This publication, American Indian Urbanization & Assimilation, is one in a series of bibliographies the Institute will publish. Other bibliographies available address the following issues:

- American Indian Elders and Aging
- Child Welfare
- Contemporary American Indian Social Movements
- Education
- Juvenile Justice
- Religious Freedom
- Repatriation

These bibliographies were compiled through extensive research of all databases available at the University of Minnesota's Wilson Library. This bibliography is current through September, 1995. The Institute tried to be as inclusive as possible in researching all topics, but is aware there are many resources which are not available though electronic databases, such as works in progress. If you are aware of any resources addressing American Indian urbanization and assimilation which are not included in this publication, please inform the Institute and the information will be added promptly. Please send any additions or corrections to:

American Indian Research & Policy Institute
749 Simpson Street North
St. Paul, MN 55104

If you would like to request copies any of the bibliographies published by the Institute, please call (612) 644-1728 or fax request to (612) 644-0740. You can also send e-mail requests to airpi@gold.tc.umn.edu.
